The sap is beginning to start its northward trip in the maples.

Barre people should respond liberally to the call for books for our soldiers and sailors.

There is no doubt that peace talk at the present time is put out in order to devitalize American war effort. Don't believe the peace talk for a minute.

Governor Whitman of New York is planning to run for a third term. That third term idea is not so terrible these days as it was six or seven years ago.

Several counties continue to increase their lead over Chittenden county in the sale of war saving stamps.—Burlington News.

And several other counties are passing Chittenden county in the race for $20 per capita. No less than seven counties of the state are now ahead of Chittenden in per capita investment. The situation does not speak well for the second largest county in the state and the county which contains the wealthiest city.

The French people will only take fresh determination to punish the Germans for those air raids on Paris. That was the result of the air raids on London. That would be the result were the Germans to drop bombs on New York, Washington or any other American city. The effort to break down the morale of the civilian population is apt to prove a boomerang.

Occupation by the American troops of a section of German trenches in the Lunenburg sector should not be taken to be a marked advance, for the distance between the first line trenches of the opposing forces is not extended. To move from the American first line trenches to the German first line trenches is not a long advance. However, it is in the right direction.

The chief reports coming back to the United States from Secretary Baker's visit in France are to the effect that he dined with this person, that person and the other person. Presumably, however, the secretary of war is putting in some good hard work in the meantime, getting acquainted with the war conditions and forming well grounded ideas, which will be beneficial to his country.

While we are venting our spite on the enemy for poisoning 240 U. S. government horses at Covington, Ky., we should spend a little time criticizing the system which permitted the enemy to get in touch with the food or water of the horses. If there were not so much laxity in guarding the corrals of horses the Germans would get no chance to place poison in the food or drink given to the animals. We cannot hide that fact.

The voluminous talk of Von Hindenburg and Von Ludendorff about the splendid morale of the German army indicates, if anything, that the morale of the German army is not at an exceedingly high point and that there is a concerted effort to boost it up so that the Germans will be able to meet the accelerated impetus of the allies' arms as given by the constantly growing American army in France. Every week adds to the numerical superiority of the allies' strength on the western front with the arrival of the Americans. It is probable that the German soldiers are becoming cognizant of the increasing size of the American force despite the studied efforts of their officers and the press of Germany to minimize the importance of American participation in actual service.

THE VERMONT FARMS NEED YOU, BOYS.

Every able-bodied youth of 12 years or over, who is now attending school in Vermont, should lay his plans now to enlist the coming summer in the big army of farm hands needed to carry on the increased production planned by Vermont. The call of army and navy service has taken between 3,000 and 4,000 young men out of the state, a large number of whom came from the farms. Then, too, the demands of increased production in the munitions plants in many sections of New England and other eastern states have drawn further on the young men population of the state and these workers have in considerable part come from the farms. These two calls have made a serious drain upon the farm at a time when labor was none too plenty under peace conditions. The result is that the agricultural industry of the state is facing a serious proposition of how to get men to carry on the production that is demanded of the state. The boys in high schools and upper grades of the other schools can in large part fill this void by undertaking some of the work on the farm in order to release labor for the work which demands greater experience. There ought to be several thousand volunteers in this farm army during the period from the first of June to the first of September, at least. No doubt the various county farm agents will be ready to take up the work of placing these volunteers on the farm if the boys have no definite selections of

Save to Win

The boys from Barre are in the trenches to-day, to-morrow they may go over the top.

We cannot do much for the boys, but we must not let it be said when their names are read from that silent roll of honor that they gave up their last full measure of devotion for an ungrateful and selfish people.

We can save for them, and we must save. We can buy War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, and we must do it. Barre has got to raise $20 per capita, and to do this each man, woman and child must buy at least 50c worth each week. WILL YOU DO YOUR SHARE? COME IN TO-DAY.

The people are already saving in a manner that would seem almost marvelous in peace times, but war calls for the maximum in every one, and we must awake to the necessity of a supreme effort. IT IS AN IMPERATIVE CALL.

Our savings deposits increased $100,000 for the year closed Jan. 1, 1918, and have made a gain of $75,000 since that time. ACTUAL MONEY SAVED AND PAID INTO THIS BANK BY THE PEOPLE OF BARRE AND VICINITY, and this beside $250,000 subscribed through us for Liberty Loans.

The people want to help win the war, and their savings in this bank will contribute to that end, for we are behind the government to the finish. If Germany wins, our money will do us no good, and your home, your business and all that you have struggled for, will be an empty possession.

MARKET YOUR WHEAT NOW.

Appeal Made to Vermonters in the Interest of the Allies.

St. Albans, March 18.—Acting federal food administrator for Vermont, John T. Cushing, to-day gave out the following appeal to the farmers of Vermont from United States Food Administrator Herbert Hoover that they bring all of their wheat, except their necessary reserves for sale to market before May 1:

"In order that we may comply with the urgent demands of the allies for wheat and at the same time take care of our own domestic supplies we urgently need this year an earlier and more complete marketing of the wheat in farmers' hands than usual. The allies are taking from us 50 per cent of other cereals than wheat to mix in their bread. Inasmuch as the people in allied countries and the soldiers must be fed with bread baked in bakeries it is impossible for them to prepare bread made wholly out of other cereals and we must furnish them with sufficient wheat to maintain their bakery loaf. It therefore appeals to all the farmers in the state of Vermont that they shall bring all of their wheat except their necessary reserves for sale to market before May 1. This is a war call and a service for Uncle Sam who is fighting for his life. If your local miller is unable to buy all the wheat that is offered, market as in the other customary trade channels through which it will reach the food administration grain corporation."

The following statements show the number of employees contributed by the several bureaus of the department and the office of the secretary:

Bureau of lighthouses	1,234
Coast and geodetic survey	175
Bureau of standards	68
Bureau of the census	39
Bureau of fisheries	20
Bureau of navigation	18
Steamboat inspection service	17
Bureau of foreign and domestic commerce	11
Office of the secretary	9
Total	1,591

The above total does not include 12 employees of the various bureaus of the department who have been appointed field clerks in the United States army.

When stating as above for general information the number of those who have entered the active war services, I desire to call special attention to the fact that every one of the eight services of the department and the men and the women who serve in them, are actively engaged also in important work necessary to carry on the war, and much of it of a character vital to sustaining the armies in the field. In this struggle, which is not a contest of armies and navies alone, but in strict truth a contest between nations, discrimination must not be made between those who with equal patriotism serve at the desk, in the laboratory, in the shop and in the field. We do not catch the spirit in which our country enters the war if we fail to understand that service in it is common to us all.

William C. Redfield.

Dandruff Scalps

Lead to Baldness

If you have dandruff get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely ruin your hair if you don't.

Dandruff means faded, brittle, gray, scraggly hair that finally dies and falls out—new hair will not grow—then you are bald and nothing can help you.

The only sure way to abolish dandruff for good is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, surely and safely, there is nothing so effective as Parian Sage, which you can get from any good druggist. It is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and promote a new growth, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies all hair needs—an antiseptic liquid, neither sticky or greasy, easy to apply, and delicately perfumed.

If you want beautiful, soft, thick, lustrous hair, and lots of it, you must use Parian Sage. Don't delay—begin to-night—a little attention now insures abundant hair for years to come.
